

Write the SQL queries to convert to Relational Model. Also you should check that every email should have @.

Write the PL/SQL for the audit, ~~at~~ audit-client table and the client-master table, discussed in previous day. Trigger is fired when an update or delete is fired on the client-master table.

(Refer the full question given on previous day)

